1. INTRODUCTION

The Department of English, Government College for Men, Kurnool, organized a Competitive Examination Readiness Test (CRT) on 01 August 2026 with the objective of motivating undergraduate students to prepare systematically for various competitive examinations. The programme was conducted under the guidance of Dr M. Indira Santhi garu, Principal, with the active support of faculty members from the Telugu, Hindi, and other departments. The Competitive Examination Readiness Test consisted of 50 objective-type questions, equally distributed between General English (25 Marks) and General Knowledge & Current Affairs (25 Marks). The programme aimed to familiarize students with the examination pattern followed in various recruitment examinations such as APPSC, SSC, Banking, Railways, UPSC, RRB and other Government recruitment examinations.

2. PRINCIPAL'S ADDRESS

Dr. M. Indira Santhi garu, Principal, addressed the gathering and highlighted the importance of developing competitive aptitude among undergraduate students. She encouraged students to cultivate regular reading habits, improve communication skills, and remain updated with current affairs. She stressed that consistent preparation, discipline, and confidence are essential for success in competitive examinations. She appreciated the initiative taken by the Department of English and advised students to utilize every opportunity provided by the institution for career development.

Principal Dr. M. Indira Santhi garu inaugurating the Competitive Examination Readiness Programme

3. OBJECTIVES

1. Create awareness about State and Central Government competitive examinations.
2. Assess students' proficiency in General English.
3. Evaluate students' General Knowledge and Current Affairs.
4. Familiarize students with the competitive examination pattern.
5. Improve confidence and analytical ability and promote employability skills.
6. Encourage systematic preparation and prepare students for future recruitment examinations.

Dr. K. Rekha, Lecturer in English, explaining the importance of General English in competitive examinations.

Smt. Sasikala, Lecturer in English motivating the students to write Competitive Examinations.

4. NEED FOR THE PROGRAMME

Competitive examinations have become an essential gateway to employment in Government and Public Sector Organizations. Many students possess academic knowledge but lack adequate exposure to competitive examination patterns and current affairs. Keeping this need in view, the Department of English organized the Competitive Examination Readiness Test to provide students with an opportunity to assess their present level of preparation and identify areas requiring improvement. The programme also encouraged students to cultivate regular reading habits and improve their language proficiency.

Dr. P. Nagarjuna explaining the Competitive Examination Readiness Test (CRT) to students.

4. PROGRAMME SCHEDULE

Particulars	Details
Programme	Competitive Examination Readiness Test
Date	01 August 2026
Venue	Government College for Men, Kurnool
Duration	60 Minutes
Maximum Marks	50
Participants	Final Year Undergraduate Students
Organized by	Department of English

The programme commenced with an inaugural session attended by the Principal, faculty members, and students. The Principal emphasized the importance of competitive examinations and motivated students to prepare regularly with dedication and discipline.

Dr. M. Indira Santhi garu, Principal, interacting with students during the Competitive Examination Readiness Test.

Faculty members addressed the students on various aspects of competitive examinations, including examination strategies, time management, preparation techniques, and career opportunities. Students were encouraged to improve vocabulary, reading comprehension, analytical thinking, and awareness of current affairs. The interactive session enabled students to clarify their doubts and understand the preparation strategies required for various competitive examinations.

The Competitive Examination Readiness Test was conducted in an organized manner under the supervision of the Department of English. Students were provided with the question paper consisting of fifty multiple-choice questions covering General English, General Knowledge, and Current Affairs. The examination was completed within the stipulated time of sixty minutes. The answer scripts were evaluated promptly, and the results were compiled to assess students' performance.

5. RESULT ANALYSIS

The results of the Competitive Examination Readiness Test reflected students' enthusiasm towards competitive examination preparation. The evaluation helped identify students' strengths and areas requiring improvement. The analysis revealed that students performed well in General English while additional focus is required in General Knowledge and Current Affairs. The programme provided valuable insights for organizing future coaching programmes and continuous assessment.

6. LEARNING OUTCOMES

The programme enabled students to:

- Understand the pattern of competitive examinations.
- Improve General English proficiency.
- Enhance General Knowledge and Current Affairs awareness.
- Develop confidence in attempting objective-type questions.
- Improve analytical thinking and decision-making.
- Identify strengths and weaknesses.
- Develop regular study habits.
- Increase awareness of career opportunities.

7. PROGRAMME OUTCOMES

- Increased student participation in competitive examination preparation.
- Enhanced employability skills.
- Improved awareness of Government recruitment examinations.
- Strengthened academic motivation.
- Encouraged continuous self-learning.

The Competitive Examination Readiness Test organized by the Department of English was successfully conducted with active participation from students and faculty members. The programme created awareness regarding various competitive examinations and motivated students to prepare systematically for future career opportunities. The Department of English remains committed to organizing similar academic initiatives to strengthen students' employability skills, competitive aptitude, and overall personality development. The programme significantly contributed to promoting academic excellence, career readiness, and lifelong learning among undergraduate students.

Conclusion

“Success in competitive examinations is not the result of chance, but of consistent preparation, disciplined effort, and continuous learning.”

The Department of English, Government College for Men, Kurnool, successfully organized the Competitive Examination Readiness Test (CRT) on 01 August 2026 with the objective of enhancing students' competitive aptitude and employability skills. The programme provided an excellent platform for students to assess their proficiency in General English, General Knowledge, and Current Affairs, while familiarizing themselves with the pattern of various State and Central Government competitive examinations. The enthusiastic participation of students and the wholehearted support extended by the Principal, faculty members, and the organizing committee contributed significantly to the success of the programme. The result analysis highlighted both the strengths of the participants and the areas that require further improvement, thereby serving as a valuable guide for future academic interventions.

The Department of English reaffirms its commitment to organizing similar academic and career-oriented programmes that encourage students to develop analytical thinking, communication skills, reading habits, and lifelong learning. Such initiatives not only prepare students for competitive examinations but also strengthen their confidence, leadership qualities, and overall personality development. The department sincerely thanks the Principal, faculty members, supporting staff, and all participating students for their cooperation and enthusiastic involvement in making the programme a grand success.

"The future belongs to those who prepare for it today." — Malcolm X

We sincerely acknowledge

- Principal Dr. M. Indira Santhi garu for her valuable guidance and encouragement.
- All faculty members for their continuous support.
- The participating students for their enthusiastic involvement.
